CIRCULAR

Rumi Library is pleased to organize webinar on “Harnessing Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Research using Rubriq” AI powered writing assistant, which is specifically designed for research writing and production of high-quality academic content.

The details of presentation are specified in the annexure to this circular. This event will prove beneficial in ascertaining its quality, usability and subscription, after getting inputs from the faculty members and research scholars. Rumi Library will also try to get trial access of the product initially, if found portentous.

Please join us on 29th of April, 2025 at 12:00 noon. The link to join is provided in the PDF shared through email.
