CIRCULAR

All faculty members/research supervisors are hereby informed that the Rumi library has created designated study space in the form of exclusive study cubicles that could be reserved in the Library for 10 days in order to provide a conducive and quiet environment for advanced study and research work.

The primary objective of this initiative is to provide a dedicated, quiet, and research-conducive environment for researchers to carry out their research work without distractions.

Benefits of the Study Cubicles:

- Focused and distraction-free space for research and writing with better access to library Resources.
- A sense of ownership and responsibility among researchers.
- Reduced stress and improved research productivity.
- Commitment of the library as a research-supportive facility with focus on individuals.

Further, the Library has established a Research Help Desk to assist users in the queries pertaining to their research.

Research helpdesk Service includes:

- Guidance on using the library catalogue and databases
- Assistance in locating books, journals, research articles
- Help with literature searches for projects and research
- Support with citation styles and referencing tools
- General and subject-specific reference assistance

- Information on plagiarism & its detection.
- Improved quality of research.

Besides, the research scholars can avail the facility of Journals, magazines and Newspapers that will be readily available for them in the newly created division.

This initiative reflects the Library's commitment to supporting research activities and fostering academic excellence.

Interested research scholars may avail the facility by registering their names at the Library Research helpdesk. Allotment of study cubicle will be made on a first-come, first-served basis and will be subject to the Library rules and regulations.

We encourage all the research scholars to make optimum use of this dedicated section for their academic and research pursuits.
