

Aspirations of the Center:

The Centre aspires to bring society closer to science through a multidisciplinary approach, by promoting education, research and capacity building. It aims to contribute to the development of a skilled, innovative and educated human resource. The Centre shall act as a bridge in identifying and highlighting various social issues, while bringing community closer to the scientific tools and technologies for development and prosperity through institutional social responsibility. It strives to become a focal point for scholarly communities and an intellectual centre where individuals can develop their intellectual capabilities in all areas.
