CIED-IUST Foundation Organizes one-week short term computer course for students of Department of Arabic Language and Literature.

06.12.2024: A one-week short-term computer course was organized from 02-06 December 2024 by CIED-IUST Foundation for the students of Department of Arabic Language and Literature.

More than 40 students attended the course. The main aim of the short-term computer course was to provide essential computer training to students with a special focus on Arabic language. The course was designed to equip them with practical skills in key applications like Microsoft Word, Excel, PowerPoint and other relevant digital tools and empower students, particularly women, with the technological proficiency needed to thrive in a technology-driven environment.

The program was facilitated by experienced trainers of CIED – IUST Foundation who taught the students essential computer skills, offering personalized guidance and support to help students grasp key concepts and applications.

The valedictory session of the program was attended by Prof. Parvez A. Mir, CEO CIED-IUST Foundation, Dr. Inayet Rasool, Head of Department of Arabic Language and Literature and other esteemed members of the CIED-IUST Foundation. During the session, participants expressed their gratitude to the trainers for their insightful and enriching sessions and sought for conducting such programs more often. They appreciated the valuable knowledge and practical skills they had acquired throughout the course. Certificates were distributed to the participants.
